A note from our pastor...

Beautiful Beloveds,

Tis the season for graduations, weddings, recitals, and so many more celebrations. In this busy and joyful month we celebrate athletes and academics, music and dance, fathers, graduates and more. We give thanks for teachers and students as they wrap up another year of school. And we look ahead to rest and play in the summer season. Tis the season of endings and beginnings.

June is also the season for Annual Conference, the yearly business and worshipful meeting of the United Methodist Church. This too holds the joyful celebration of new beginnings and the grief and gratitude of holy endings. In our time together we'll celebrate with those who are called to ministry as they move through the stages of licensing and ordination. We'll celebrate those who have reached the milestone of 50 years of ordination, like our own, Rev. Wendy Van Orden. We'll pause to remember those who have died in the last year and the mission and ministries of those churches that have closed in the last year. We will also discuss and vote on each of fourteen churches who have discerned it is time for them to leave the United Methodist Church. And, we'll look ahead to a vision of ministry of the United Methodist Church in New England. I ask your prayers for all delegates, clergy, and Conference leaders as we listen to one another. I pray the voice of the Spirit speaks louder than all other voices.

In this season of endings and beginnings, may we make and take time to reflect with gratitude on the work of the Spirit, within, around and through us. May our hearts be filled with hope and gratitude.

Peace,

What is Methodist Disaffiliation All About?

You may have read about and seen articles in the newspaper about United Methodist congregations voting to disaffiliate from the United Methodist Church. What is this all about and how might it impact our Arnold Mills congregation? First of all, this is a formal legal process related to who owns the real estate property of any United Methodist congregation. Legally, all church property is held in trust for the benefit of the entire denomination. This creates a problem for any congregation which discerns that they can no longer accept the interpretations of scripture, teachings of our discipline (UM church rules) and denominational leadership. Therefore, in 2019, a Special General Conference voted to allow individual congregations to exit/disaffiliate from their United Methodist Conference for reasons of conscience related to human sexuality. This process would also allow local churches to individually own their church property if they disaffiliate prior to December 31, 2023. A rather lengthy and detailed set of criteria has been established to accomplish this act.

This act, however, goes far deeper than the legality of who should own the real estate and church property. This is a matter of individual and congregational interpretation of what Jesus taught about love, acceptance, and how we interact within our communities. How should we interpret the scriptures in Leviticus or Timothy related to sexual practices? How do we associate with the observations of Jesus as he repeatedly demonstrated love for all neighbors and called upon the church leaders of His time to be more inclusive of all peoples? To date, our church has not discussed this subject as a congregation, nor have we formalized our position.

It is anticipated that the upcoming New England Annual Conference in June will highlight the difference of interpretation of scripture within congregations. This year, 14 out of 568 United Methodist congregations in New England have voted for and are requesting disaffiliation. Their request will be considered at Annual Conference. Some of these churches have felt that New England United Methodist leadership has been too progressive and others have felt the opposite, ...that they have been too conservative.

In recent discussions at the May meeting of the AMUMC Church Council, it was determined that the Council would take a stance in support of full inclusion of our LGBTQ+ siblings in the life and leadership of the United Methodist Church. This position is consistent with the posture of our New England Conference, who voted in 2016 to stand in "non-conformity" with the Discipline of the United Methodist Church. It was the general agreement of your Council that we should not just sit back and observe the process but that we should take a positive and public step in reinforcing our love and respect for all of our neighbors.

This is not the end of this process but a first step. What our vote will initiate is an opportunity to create dialogue and questions between individual members and friends of our church. We hope to begin the process to officially become a "Reconciling Congregation," and formalize our intention that AMUMC is church where all are welcome, without exception. Experience at other churches has shown that dialogue and sharing of concerns is a process that generally leads to stronger bonds within the congregation and mutual support. This is a process which we will be initiating in the fall, as summer activities begin to wind down. I invite your participation in this process and believe that the "amazing" Arnold Mills community will become stronger as we clarify our religious beliefs with a spirit of Love and Joy.

Sincerely,

Keith Johnson, Council Chair

Finance Committee Update April 30, 2023

As of April 30th the church checking account balance was $25,606. This included $16,986 in donations given specifically for environmental projects to improve the energy efficiency of the church. These funds will be managed by the Trustees. Operating Income through April totaled $60,931 and Expenses totaled $76,819, for a Net Loss of $15,888. We have an ongoing situation where donation and other income remains relatively the same year to year, while our expenses continue to go up. This creates an ongoing loss. In order to cover operating expenses, we occasionally request funds from the Trustee portfolio. The Church Council recently approved a $10,000 withdrawal from the portfolio to be transferred to the checking account for operating purposes.

If you would like to receive the detailed financial reports or if you have questions, please email treasurer.amumc@gmail.com. Thank you to everyone who contributes through your pledged and unpledged donations!

Tips for June 2023

Weddings, graduation celebrations, holidays, get togethers—all are important, and all can produce lots of waste. The average American wedding typically dumps 400–600 pounds of trash into landfills. Choose alternatives to trashing: Collect and compost food scraps and compostable plates and utensils. Avoid paper and plastic, substituting glass or ceramic dishes, serving platters, and silverware, which can be washed and reused.

A marriage is supposed to be sustainable, so start with a sustainable wedding dress. Shop for vintage, second hand, and rental gowns here and at Goodwill or another local thrift shop, which may also have a wedding dress sale event. When the big day is over, be sure to donate your gown to make a special day for someone else.

Go local and seasonal with the flowers. Home or locally grown seasonal bouquets mean fewer transport emissions and less likelihood of poor treatment of the farm workers—a justice issue. Once the event is over, deliver the flowers to a hospital, nursing home, or to some people you love or who need a lift. Compost any flowers that have withered.

Make a statement with party favors that give back. Look for something plantable, like herbs, succulents, seed packets. Or display a sign that you've made a donation in your guests' honor, such as planting trees or saving a favorite endangered wildlife creature, perhaps one that fits the theme of the day. Invite additional contributions and send an electronic notice with the amount raised and a thank you for caring for God's creation.

Nix the balloons. They are not biodegradable, and they consequently harm birds and marine life. Also, helium is a nonrenewable gas needed in welding, rocket propulsion, and even scuba diving. Wasting helium in the momentary fun of balloons jeopardizes the other uses. Instead, add sparkle and fun to the event with tissue-paper pom poms, garlands from upcycled materials from home, fabric bunting, streamers made from recycled paper, or bubbles.

Turn out the lights for the sake of fireflies. Fireflies flash to attract mates. However, with so much artificial light at night, they can't see each other. If they can't mate, they can't make more fireflies. Let God's "nightlights" shine.

Conserve water (save the planet too). Time watering for early morning or later evening to avoid quick evaporation. Use a broom rather than a hose to clean up outside. Wash the car from a bucket, not from a running hose. Reuse rainwater and household gray water for outdoor plants. Set up a rain barrel.

Enjoy the great outdoors this summer—see and hear God at work! Look up to the sky. Is it blue? Full of clouds? Birds flying? What do you hear? Look out at eye-level. Perhaps you see flowers, colors, a bunny. Look closely at the ground. Be patient. Life is teeming there. Lift your eyes again to the sky. Pray your praise and gratitude for God's gifts of ecosystems, habitats, and beauty.

Stop throwing away trees at every meal. Instead use cloth napkins and simply throw them in the wash with another load. Patterned napkins will hide stains and lengthen the usable life of the napkins. Find some distinctive napkin rings to mark each person's and reuse the napkins a day or two before washing. If you visit garage sales, you can likely rescue napkins and rings from being trashed.

Use one space only between sentences. Back in the day, the rule was two spaces. But those extra spaces are really trees lost. With an average of more than 5,000 extra spaces per book, a years' worth of publications adds up to more than a quarter of a billion extra pages (and 26,000 trees!) Trees are life for the planet. Type for their lives.

June 2023 Trustee Report

The Trustee Committee met on May 11, 2023 at 6:30 PM in the library. Issues covered include the following:

- Our portfolio continued to make gains in April. We are up $65,000 YTD.
- The Sustainability Project donations stand at approximately $17,000. It was decided to focus on adding heat pumps and solar panels to Cargill Hall. It was voted on to approve up to $30,000 to be taken from the portfolio as a 50% match after fundraising events are conducted. Solar panels are acceptable in the Arnold Mills Historical District.
- We will look into having a glass company install portholes in the office and vestry doors, like those in the doors going into Cargill Hall and the choir room.
- We will be replacing the climbing platform floor of the swing set.
- We continue to look for a handyman who will take on small carpentry and paint jobs.
- The boiler is scheduled to be drained for the summer.
- The dehumidifier in the basement will be set up for the summer and the AC units serviced.
- Many thanks are due to the scouts for the excellent spring clean up they gave our grounds!
- Mothers' Day Donations received $290 for future outdoor projects.
- A copy of the cemetery plots is being requested to be kept in the church office.
- Upgrading the two parking lots by seal coating, reconfiguring parking spaces, and restriping is being investigated.
- The Cumberland police have been invited to walk through our church in order to give us advice about security measures, both during the week and during Sunday services.
- The Covid Preventative Plexiglass is down!
- The Trustee Manual is almost complete.
